Scarabaeus

The
Scarabaeus,
Sacer or sacred
beetle, is a member of the Coleoptera or beetle group of insects
—the highest of the insect group. This sacred beetle of the Egyptians was regarded with great veneration and symbolized resurrection and immortality. The folding of its wings forms a distinct T, therefore the seal and spirit of Tech were chosen from this historical, Egyptian beetle.

FOREWORD

Within the covers of this book, we have endeavored to portray and preserve a year of high school associations and progress. May it reflect the dear old days spent at Gerstmeyer. Some day we shall turn to its pages in a reminiscent mood and sing:

*"For Tech we'll sing,
For Tech we'll shout,
For Tech we'll stand together.
For Tech we'll raise
Our song of praise;
T. E. C. H., forever."*

Dedication

It is with a profound feeling of gratitude that we, the Senior Class of 1931, dedicate this year's Scarabaeus to the Kiwanis Club of Terre Haute, Indiana.

The splendid spirit of encouragement radiating from its membership is symbolical of the high ideals which the Kiwanis Club promote.

It is indeed a cherished privilege for the graduating Seniors to receive the wise counsel of such able men who sacrifice the time from their own affairs to bring to us this earnest advice that we may be better able to fill our places in the world after graduation.

—The Editor.

SENIOR CLASS

Motto: "E Pluribus Unum"

Colors: Wine Red, Silver Gray

Flower: American Beauty Rose

Song: By Chelsea Stockwell

We are proud to say that we're from
Gerstmeyer High.
Sing its praises high;
Echo from the sky;
We've enjoyed every year at
Gerstmeyer High.

Time has come to say good-bye,
But we are proud to say
All along the way,
"To Tech we've all been true,
Always proud of you.
Rah! for Tech."

Rah! Rah! for our own senior class of Tech!
Our Motto's, "check and double check."
We'll keep the spirit of old
Gerstmeyer High.
Sing its praises high;
Echo from the sky.
People say that every spark can make a fire,
So—"Success is our desire."

"The Doors of Wisdom Are Never Shut"

History of the Class of 1931

The Class of 1931 was organized in the fall of 1930 by Mr. Curtis Shortridge as the Junior Class, with Miss Lois Brown and Mr. Clarence True as sponsors. Catheryn Johnson was elected president, Alice Simmons, vice president, and Thelma Moore, secretary. The high spot of this term's work was the many movie shows conducted at the local theatres.

In January officers were again elected. They were Robert Dikowski, president, Charles Jackley, vice president, and Thelma Moore, secretary-treasurer. The class produced the first annual Tech Revue this semester, which was a gigantic success. In June the Juniors gave the Seniors the Annual Junior-Senior Prom. This was a lovely affair and will be long remembered by all who attended.

Shortly after the beginning of school in September of this year, the Class of 1931 was reorganized, electing Clifford Ellis as president, James Murphy, vice president, and Dorothy Jones, secretary-treasurer. Olive V. Foster was chosen sponsor of the class after Miss Brown was married. The class put on the second annual Tech Revue at the Woodrow Wilson in November. Soon after this the Scurabacus Staff was organized and commenced work on the annual.

At the beginning of the Spring term officers were elected for the last time. They were Clarence Liggett, president, Paul Riley, vice president, Ruth Houston, treasurer, and Marion Russell, secretary. Plans were worked out for the raising of money for the annual. A cake committee was appointed and cakes were sold during the fifth and sixth periods. A beauty contest was sponsored, electing Mary Jane Brown, queen, and Clifford Ellis, king. The Senior May Ball was given for the King and Queen at which time their coronation took place. Considerable money was made on these two ventures. The Class Play was presented in May, and the regular Senior activities followed the first week of June. Baccalaureate Sunday was observed May 31st and Commencement June 2nd at the Woodrow Wilson Junior High School.

Class Prophecy

SCENE I

Josephine Day and Clarence Liggett are seen walking toward one another

Jo: "Why, hello there, Clarence; don't you know me anymore?"

Clar: "Oh course, it's Jo Day, isn't it?"

Jo: "Of course. What are you doing now? Are you still in music?"

Clar: "Yes, I will always be. Since Paul Whiteman's retirement, I have been taking his place as director in our orchestra. What are you doing?"

Jo: "Oh, I (laughingly) am still working on that new Indiana Constitution."

Clar: "I wonder where the rest of our classmates are and what they are doing."

Jo: "Do you know, I have been thinking about going to see Medsakh, the famous crystal gazer, who's in town now--just for a lark and see if she can tell me something about them. Would you like to go with me?"

Clar: "I'd love to. Let's go now. My car is just around the corner."

SCENE II

The Crystal Gazer's Reception Room.

Medsakh: "Did you wish to consult me?"

Clar: "Yes, we should like to know what our classmates, who graduated in '31 are doing now."

Jo: "Oh, do you think you can really tell us?"

Medsakh: "Just sit here, my good people, and be very quiet."

Jo: "Oh, I'm so thrilled."

Medsakh: "First, I am going to tell you about yourselves. You, Miss Day, have won renown as a woman statesman, and you, Mr. Liggett, will go down in fame as a most versatile musician.

"I see Warren Ambler, Clifford Ellis, and Seymour Heiser on the screen as the famous 'Dixie Moonshiners.' Last year's races were the most interesting in years. Kenneth Bauers and Jack Sears won first place; Clarence Stroot, second, and Leo Hoover fifth.

FRESHMAN - Boys

Library

Gerstmeyer Library serves the high school and also the public. Readers are welcomed at all times to use the library for reference and recreational reading. There are now 4,500 volumes in the collection.

Cafeteria

We are proud of our cafeteria. There are several reasons for this justifiable feeling. The efficient cooks, student helpers, Miss Shipley, and the good wholesome food are some of the reasons. There are eleven student helpers "dressed up" in their new uniforms ready to serve the students. Mrs. Rockliffe and Mrs. Pierson are Miss Shipley's able assistants.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

One of the newest and most interesting clubs organized this year in September, was Le Cercle Francais, having for its membership students of the French Department, and several honorary faculty members. The purpose of the club is to promote a further interest in the French language, the French people, and their customs. The Circle is a most active group of students that meets once or more than once a month to give French plays, anecdotes, games, and to converse in French.

The officers chosen at our September meeting were

President ..	Margaret Berry
Vice President	Mary E. Connett
Secretary ..	Lana Hiles

WOOD CABINET SHOP

Wood Cabinet Shop

The woodworking class this year has made many new features, especially in racks, cabinet doors, locker frames, picture frames, cabinet lockers, filing cabinets, moldings of all descriptions, and bicycle racks. Small furniture were made such as foot stools, benches, end tables, davenport tables, gazebos, and other furniture pieces, foot lamps, and book racks. Other projects were booths for carnivals, gateleg tables, bird houses, smoking cabinets, lawnmowers, bookcases, chairs, shelf boards, and cabinet drawers.

Mr. Mayers, who is a capable and efficient instructor along this line of work, has given all the boys of his shop an exceptional chance to get the best desired results which they are most fitted to do. Students in the class are:

Stanley Holden

Edel Jewell

Charles Ax

Richard Russell

Clyde Sangren

John Lechman

Rond Laroceta

Charles M. Walker

Edgar H. Eson

William Johnson

Ray Smith

Richard Cayot

PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Gerstmeyer Parent-Teachers Association held regular meetings under the leadership of President Lewis Harvey.

The programs were planned from the seven objectives of Parent-Teacher work as subjects for their speakers who were Principals of our local Senior and Junior High Schools.

Suitable books were placed in our school library in memory to Curtis G. Shortridge and Elmer W. Ferree, members of our Faculty who passed on this year.

Two ten dollar awards and two five dollar awards are to be given to the boy and girl on the four year course and the two year course having the highest grades.

The programs for next year will consist of discussions on interesting school problems by the Parents and Teachers. Much group singing will also be a feature.

THE SCHOOL ASSEMBLY

The assembly periods of our school have taken place every Friday this year. The singing of "America" and the Allegiance to the Flag, led by Floyd Fleming, are habitual for opening numbers. Student programs, patriotic celebrations, and out-side speakers have made the variation interesting, instructive, and entertaining.

HOME ROOM

The Home Room is just what the name signifies, the "home" of the student while he is in school. The teacher is the "parent" and advisor. The problems of the school, of the home room, and especially those of each member are taken up either privately or with the group, accordingly as the problems demand.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

The Junior Red Cross of Terre Haute made two hundred and five dollars on a picture show for the purpose of sending a delegate to Washington, D. C. to the national convention. Lazelle Woodruff was sent from Tech.

Robert Harvey, bass tuba, soloist, State Contest.

Vigo Huffman, trumpet soloist, Sectional Contest.

The repertoire of the band for 1930-31 included the following selections:

"Entry of the Gods into Valhalla," from the Opera "Das Rheingold" by Richard Wagner.

"William Tell Overture," by Rossini.

"Morning, Noon and Night," by Von Suppe

"Don Quixote," suite by Safranek.

Tech suffered an irreparable loss by the death of Mrs. Charles Gerstmeyer, sponsor and leader to the band since its formation. Band members attended her funeral in uniform and are planning a fitting memorial in tribute to her.

$$d_H = \frac{1}{2} \left( \frac{1}{\lambda_1} + \frac{1}{\lambda_2} \right) = \frac{1}{2} \left( \frac{1}{1.5} + \frac{1}{1.5} \right) = \frac{1}{2} \left( \frac{2}{1.5} \right) = \frac{1}{1.5} = \frac{2}{3}$$

The Hi-Y club of 1931 won't forget another score for you. The club sent its President, Harold A. Fasz, to the State Conference last November. Many good times were spent in cooperation with the Blue Devils. One of the outstanding features of the club this year was that of adopting the plan to indicate its members by the first degree. The first degree class was composed of William Downing, Harold Bennett, Harold Gwadnow, Marvin Montague, Marvin Goss, and Harold Fasz. Fasz had been a pioneer for years in tournament and in keeping of the tennis court. It was very much honored in being host to the Wabash Valley Older Boys Conference in February, and especially honored in having its president, Harold Fasz, elected as chairman of the afternoon session. Mr. Ketner was the faculty adviser of the club and deserves a great deal of credit for its success.

TECH THEATRE CLUB

Tech Theatre Club

The Theatre Club has now organized its members into two groups. One group, representing a Middle School, is the Stage Committee, headed and sponsored by Mr. Adams, and a Senior Committee. Both committees have as their purpose the production of plays and stage productions and motion picture programs.

Don E. S. Jones	Lester Woodruff
John E. Houghton	Arthur Johnson
Norman St. John	Richard Rabe
David Jackson	Chester Bessy
Ray Martin	Kenneth Wood
William Rockwell	Marvyn Johnson
Harold C. Freeman	Arthur DeMont

The Club has become almost an indispensable part of the extra-curricular work of the school. The aim of the organization is well expressed in the Club Motto: "Service for Tech."

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society

The yearning and aim of every freshman to be chosen to represent his class on this society—and the highest honor the school could bestow upon a senior—is the attainment of " . . . you have been elected to the National Honor Society."

The Honor Society stands for these qualities of character: S-Scholarship; C-Character; L-Leadership; S-Service.

Those students who achieved the Honor Society this year are:
Upper Row: Kenneth Benjamin, Charles Stockwell, Evelyn Cross, Robert Harvey, Warren Ambler.

Lower Row: Harry Winn, Robert Dekowski, Margaret Britton, Evelyn Todd, Doris Grigsby, Pres., Robert Dickoff, Warren Ambler.

Let us not fall by the wayside, for each they climb to success. C-C-L

Baseball 1931

Agate broke Baseball record for the past season record. A win in history and a tie of the very successful seasons. With eight left men back and a lot of two years' experience to their advantage, Coach Clements put forth one of the strongest teams in the valley.

The experienced players that composed the season's team were: Campbell and Horton, 1st and 2nd base; Bennett, 1st base; Fazio, 2nd base; M. Briggs, 3rd base; Rennels, catcher; Cresson and Klug, outfielders.

At the start of the 1931 season, Coach Clements was confronted with the problem of finding a third baseman and an outfielder. Klug was brought in as an outfielder and played the hot bag for awhile, but was shifted back to the outfield when M. Briggs showed that he could play the bag with no trouble. Lohr and Carty were the two outfielders found besides Cresson and Klug.

The team played a speckly brand of ball all year and showed superior work by defeating what was considered the strongest team in the state, Williamsport, by the score of 6-0. As well as our old rival, Garfield, 3-0.

The boys who were honored with letters are as follows: Earl Bennett, Harold Fasig, Michael Briggs, Capt. Arthur Rennels, Kenneth Campbell, F. Lohr, Ferdinand Cresson, Robert Keeg, William Carty, and Bert Horton.

Agate played the following teams this year: Honey Creek, Williamsport, West Terre Haute, Outer Creek, Co. Wiley, Garfield, State Freshmen, Gay City.

ODE TO FOOTBALL SCHOLARS

Submitted by Edna Arcin

They punch his nose and smear his clothes,
And sweat him till he's blue.
They hit him high and hit him low,
And in the middle, too.
They smash a bone to hear him groan;
For pity they have none.
They hear the coach say, "Nail 'em,"
And think it's lots of fun.

So when the game is over,
And the shouting is almost done,
When your hated foes are rankinshed,
And the victory is won,
When you've cheered for all the heroes
Till your throat is cracked and dry,
You should at least give one good yell
For that forsaken guy,
Who has sat upon the sidelines,
Longing for a try.
He's deserving, though forgotten,
And although he's a dub,
There's the sweet, cleanest, makin's
In the make-up of a scrub.

SOMETHING ACHIEVED

This is our achievement section and we are proud to enter herein the names of those who have excelled in some particular phase of work, and in which, no doubt, they have found themselves. Through continued pursuit, industry, and diligence in developing this phase, they will deservedly take their places among the specialized workers of the world's program.

THE OLD BRICK WALK

By Helen Rowland

And now, tenderly—
I dwell on that memory of yesterday,
Old Brick Walk

Centuries ago it must have been,
Since you first withstood the tread of men,
For on each brick hollowed out and smooth
With moss between each crack and groove,
I let my memory rest.

You led the way for many a man,
And served him well since your time began,
But your sun has set
And your moss is wet
With dewy tears, for you're passing
Old Brick Walk.

I only hope for another day,
When into the world you'll make your way,
Now, you enhance some irksome spot,
Where there you'll stay to rot—forgotten.
Your bricks will scatter and crumble away,
And into your place the weeds will stray.
You beautiful thing of yesterday,
Old Brick Walk

Now, at night time when with steady tread
The clouds are making their way o'er head,
I see the hoar frost settle down,
And scatter on the bricks around
A silvery blanket edged with green,
That gleams and glistens with a silvery sheen.
Old Brick Walk.

DRAFTING DEPARTMENT

Harry Winn drew a complete set of plans for the house built by the carpentry class. Robert Harvey, Harry Garmong, and Arthur DeMougin have been doing especially fine work in Mechanical Drawing II. Bert Hornung's sign painting has been on a par with a professional. John LeClave's drawings for the Jig Saw, which is to be built and installed in the school shops, is a masterpiece. Leland Lewis completed the required Blueprint Reading course in a remarkably short time, and has since been making special drawings for the Machine Shop. He has just finished the drawings and tracings for the Jack Screw. Ernest Granddier has shown unusual knowledge of the principles underlying Electrical Drafting and should become more than a mere novice in Radio Engineering, if he continues advanced education in this field.

Charles Sullivan and Clarence Stout have been doing a high class piece of work in Architectural Drawing,—especially is this true in their perspective work, in which their training in Art has helped. David Jackson, Richard and John Harvey, and Willis Meyer are youngsters who are apt to be heard from in their future drafting work.

PATTERN SHOP

John Grohovsky, of the Pattern Shop, has been working since January on a miniature model Napoleonic Coach for the Fischer Body Craftsman's Guild. This is a very difficult piece of work and John has spent approximately two hundred and fifty hours on the job, up to date. He is expecting to get it completed July 1, which is the date set for the close of the contest. The first prize offered is two University scholarships for seniors and John has a big chance of winning first prize.

PRINT SHOP

Charles Weber, of the Print Shop, won a prize of two dollars for setting the best lay-out and design advertisement for The Terre Haute Savings Bank. There were twenty boys entered in the contest from the advance class in Printing. Mr. Filbeck and committee judged the work.

INDIVIDUAL ACHIEVEMENT IN TYPEWRITING

Gladys Jones, a January graduate, has the distinction of having made the highest record in typewriting this year. She has to her credit an accuracy record of three fifteen-minute tests without an error and a speed of 57 net words on new material.

DEBATE

Tech should be very proud of the success of one of its debate students in the recent Discussion League held throughout the state. Miss Dorothy Thompson represented Tech in the county contest and succeeded in defeating the contestants from Garfield, Wiley, and Fontanet. As there were no other contestants in the District, she was awarded the silver loving cup. Tech should appreciate her first cup awarded for speech distinction. Although she did not win the first place in the state, she made a very fine showing, one point going to the State Final.

We admire Dorothy for her grit and determination to succeed and we wish her more success next year.

ACHIEVEMENTS IN G. A. A.

There is a large G. A. A. membership this year and many good sports among them. A few of the outstanding ones, who have excelled in the work are Theresa Shull, Edna Ethridge, Bella Kennedy, and Pauline McKinney. Mary Stevenson has excelled in dancing, and Arline Givens, who excels in music, has played the piano for all the G. A. A. activities.

ART

Excelled in lettering: Charles Jackley, Mary Ingram, Clarence Stout, Charles Sullivan.

Ralph Dean and Mary Ingram excelled in originality in handling letters.

Excelled in Pen Drawing: Charles Sullivan, Florence Wilson, Clarence Stout, Miriam Hicks, Harry Wonn, Clara Paddock.

Excelled in Pencil Sketching: Miriam Hicks.

Excelled in Oil Painting: Florence Wilson.

Helen Rowland excellent in General Art—Oil, Pen, Crayon, Water Color, Character Sketches.

Original One Act Play [Prize]

"Fine Feathers" was written by Chester Lafollette and Robert Liggett, students of the English VII class. This play, which was one of three produced on the stage by members of the English VII class in the contest, won the prize.

The scene takes place in a fashionable jewelry shop on Fifth Avenue in New York.

The plot is a thrilling and humorous one depicting the mystery of a very costly diamond which was stolen by a gentleman crook and his "nifty" lady accomplice.

The cast was as follows:

Robert Liggett	.....Mr. B. F. Van Cartland (the crook)
Lela Deal	.....Melva Martin (lady accomplice)
Harold Fasig	.....Bourke (the boastful detective)
James Cory	.....Jake (Bourke's no-so-intelligent helper)
Charles Weber	.....Clerk (industrious)
Kyadine Todd	.....Marie (the maid)

The play was admirably directed by Chester Lafollette and the cast did a splendid piece of acting.

A Garcia of My Acquaintance

By Doris Gripsby

Gracia? Who was he? What unlimited right has he to establish a noted point on for himself in the literature of 1930? But regardless whether the man occupies a throne among the characters of high-grade literature or not, Hubbard makes him worthwhile of our consideration. Gracia means very little to us and our latest fads, but if we should look about us, we would find many Gracias and Rowans among our nearest friends and our despised enemies.

There seem to be five ages of the modern Rowan, who carried the important message to Gracia, the first, beginning at the age of four. Very early in his life he becomes acquainted with his first Garcia, the lady next door, when his mother asks, "Tommy will you please run over to Mrs. Owen's and borrow her cake pan for mother?" Childlike in his refusal he says, "No don' wanna, I'm busy makin' sand pies— Let Jeanie go!" I don' wanna." But he does go on his first errand to Garcia, in accordance with his mother's wish, and the persuasive sting of her paddle on the seat of his starched blue rompers.

In the next age we find him against his old enemy, Garcia, when his mother requests him to go on an errand just as he is preparing to go to an exciting football skirmish. She asks sweetly, "Thomas, will you go down to the drug store before you leave for the game and get your father some cigars?" "But, mom, I don't want to be late for the kickoff—why can't Jean go? I will, when I come back." Yet again, he goes, however, through his father's stern and harsh discipline, and as he bangs the front door, you can hear him mumble, "Which drugstore?—Ye Gudea, where's the dough? Fur cryin' out loud! Gee Whiz—how many?"

He has a Gravis errand to run in his third age, when he is on the way to see his "steady girl." She calls him over the phone, "Tommy, since you are coming over in the car, will you stop at Roberta's and get some records and my blue hat she borrowed—and ask her to come over and make it a foursome!" Saying all this in one breath, leaving him no possible chance to refuse nor accept or even ask any questions, she clicks the receiver. He departs again on an unwilling errand, merely because of his love for her.

He is requested to leave a large business establishment in the fourth stage, because he relies on his ultimate persistence. He had been told by its manager to go and solicit the year's largest and best order from Strong's, but he, unmindful of his position, refuses by saying, "I can't leave now with all my books unbalanced—too busy—let Jones go—Why can't we mail it? It's too far—why not use the phone?" With that he is given his back pay and promptly relieved of a good job.

When in the fifth stage, as he leaves his home for work, he is given a letter to mail to his aunt by his better half. The letter is slipped hastily into his coat pocket and there it lies until the next winter when the chamber, unexpectedly finds it.

Now considering every age isn't each one a Rowan taking a message to Garcia? No one will ever be recorded in literature or history because of the unwillingness, the lack of interest and thoughtlessness it portrays. Some women and men are of some grade of Rowan, others are so unsatisfactory in the world's work that they never will be found on history pages. The modern American must wake to duty and assume responsibility, he must become sound-principled and stimulate a clearer vision.

Chelsea Stockwell, one of our most versatile music students will, no doubt, spring into fame through the development of his latent talent. His services have been continuously solicited during his school career for all activities which he has graciously given. He acts, sings, writes songs, plays, and composes music. His latest one-act play is entitled "Just a Little Love Affair." In this play two of his original songs are used, one entitled "Always Waiting For You" and "Just a Passer-By." His song "Mother" is his last contribution and is dedicated to his mother for Mothers' Day 1931.

"MOTHER"

I can but give a small tribute to her;
A few words in song to tell her my love.
All through my life she's the one to be sure
That helped me along with her e'er lasting love.

(Chorus)

Mother, dearest pal I ever had,
Sure, you're just the gal of my old dad.
Mother, none could ever take your place,
None could wear the smile that's on your face.
When I was a child you cared for me with your charms,
Now, I've grown up, but still I love your fond arms.
Mother, when you're safe in paradise,
I'll remember, dear, your smiling eyes.

ALWAYS WAITING FOR YOU

Beneath the shadow of the moon,
In Colorado when it's June,
The night bird can be heard
Singing all the night through.
From every lado sounds of bees,
With every shadow comes to me,
And finds me so lonely
Sweetheart, longing for you.
Dream pictures come to me;
Your face I clearly see.
I am a lonely soul,
A ship without a goal,
The lonely shadows will be gone
From Colorado when it's dawn,
But I'll be so lonely
Always waiting for you.

THE SCHOOL PAPER

THE ANVIL

Due to the consistent efforts of the "Anvil" staff, composed of Miss Helen Rowland, editor, and Miss Isabel Laymon, Etan Arran, and Mome Malcooley, assistant editors, "The Anvil" was revived again. This instrument used for the forming of campus opinion, recorded Tech's latest news in an unusual and interesting manner.

BEAUTY-HANDSOME CONTEST

After a hectic two weeks in a voting contest, the ribbons were drawn at the Senior May Ball and the most beautiful and most handsome proudly stepped to the strains of Tech's glorious band to receive the golden crowns of King and Queen. The fortunate winners were Mary Jane Brown as the most beautiful girl, and Clifford Ellis as the most handsome fellow. Close seconds were Helen Rowland and William Hipkiss. Close thirds were Evangene Todd and Paul Riley.

The popularity contest, conducted by the juniors, was won by Mary Elizabeth Connell and Alex Gale.

OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT IN SCHOLARSHIP 1930-1931

(Considering the entire student body)

Those girls who have excelled in sewing are: Wanda Heppler, Theresa Shull, Isabell Laymon, Dorothy Thompson.

Judy wants to know—

Why Kenny and Joe split up.
If you saw Cecilia Chaney's coming-out party—a big runner.
What inspired four Tech girls to go swimming in Bea Park April 12?
If Kenneth B. knows about Duane and Mary
When Frances Bilby starts on her 18 day diet.
If some teachers won't miss the Four Horsemen.
If Miss Lendi won't miss her two chubby office girls.
If we can come to Taty's and Bert's wedding.
If Pierance Wilson is so contagious as a night—and gale.
If William ever Kissed his H.P.
When Sylvia Sapp will ever lose her timidity
If Evadine is stuck to stay
If Louise likes her Loh-gags.
If Mr. Osborne won't be glad I'm gone.
If John ever did let his Wigfall.
If we seniors won't miss our good times.
If Everett is really a Freshman.
If Mary E. and Mary L. Connett don't look like twins.
Why Mr. Adams likes to tease Miss Perdita.
Why Miss Schaeffer blushed when she told that joke in class.
If Rob Dik. thinks Grace P. is mama, where are the children?
Why Clifford E. did not want anyone to know about Clara, Why Mr. Scott is so preoccupied and so vitally interested in music alone     Music is the wine of romance, you know
How far Fern's flames flicker.
If Mrs. Darrough won't have a calm Home Room now that the Four Horsemen are gone.
If Chelsea won't take a post-grad course just to be with Norma.
If over weight women Yvonne nor to break the chair in the girls' rest room
How Ben did like her new boy friend.
If Margaret H. is going to be a "mama".
If Edna E. a chief actress of diet are pickles and lemons.
Why Miss Marmer won't tell of her European romance.
If we editors aren't glad this annual is out
If the Foods Lab isn't a dangerous place for young teachers
If we aren't proud of Mr. Scott for winning State's song contest
If Miss Shipley doesn't know a lot of good looking salesmen.
If Helen B. has landed her Roy yet.
What we will be doing in 1941.
If Mrs. Darrough isn't the best pal ever
How many ten-hers will embark upon matrimonial seas this summer
If chew og gum causes fallen arches, Louise E. surely has 'em
If Margaret Berry will take the lead in the operetta next year.
If Sylvia Sapp isn't wild about her new B. F.
If Grace P. really kept her six months' resolution.
If Mrs. James isn't the pluckiest thing ever.
If Mary Eason won't have serious trouble in one ear
What happened to the Anvil.
If Miss Locke wouldn't make a home loving housewife.
If the Juniors will publish as nice an annual as this.
If we don't hope the baby talk craze will be over by next semester
If Helen Hansel likes to park on running boards in Forest Park.
What kind of a brother-in-law Elsie B. would pick.
If Mary L. C. thinks she is a duck
If Kenneth W. isn't a little goofy about a certain one.
If Cecilia C. believes we believe all.
What authority said "Most handsome?"—ask Clarence Loggett.
Why Donald Sims comes to Senior Play practice.
Why Alice Simmons gets so thrilled and forgets her part in the Senior Play
If Cecilia Chaney is such a charming, well-mannered, ladylike young woman and if she wants that gentlemanly young man from Garfield to take her to the Junior-Senior Prom.
If M. L. C. and C. L. C. like their parts, or their boy friends in the Senior Play
If C. S. is really "stuck up."
If Mary Louise Connett still thinks that the pronoun "me" is third person singular

"THE JADE GOD"

On January 23, 1931, the Sportsmanship Committee produced "The Jade God" for their annual play. This was one of the best plays that has been presented by the school, and the cast with Miss Hale as director, deserve much praise for the splendid attempt.

The following students took part in the production:

Perkins .....	Marguerite Douglas
John Millicent .....	Ray Martin
Jack Derrick ..	Chelsea Stockwell
Mrs. Thursby ....	Leila Deal
Edith Derrick .	Doris Grigsby
John Martin .	Warren Anubler
Jess Millicent .....	Helen Rowland
Inspector Burke ..	Harold Gwaltney
Blunt .....	Seymour Hoser
Peters .....	Byford Wildman

SENIOR PLAY

"THE IMPORTANCE OF BEING ERNEST"

Oscar Wilde

The Senior play was an outstanding senior achievement in the fact that it was one of those plays which ranks among the classics, and required not only acting, equal to a professional, but the knowledge of drama technique. The success of the play was due to the able director, Mr. Harry Staley, who for a number of years was connected with the Little Theatre of Denver, Colorado.

The following cast gained new laurels for themselves:

Algernon Moncrieff ....	Chelsea Stockwell
Cecily Cartwright .....	Mary Louise Connett
Miss Prism .....	Cecilia Chaney
Lady Bracknell .....	Margaret Laggett
Gwendolen ...	Alice Simmons
Dr. Chasuble .....	Rudolph Lough
Lane .	James Simon
Merriman .	James Cory
Jack Worthing .....	Fred Baganz

SECRETS AGAIN

Shh! Don't repeat this, but—

After consulting members of the faculty and janitors, we, of the editorial staff, have come to the conclusion that there are a few "affairs" in this beloved school of ours that should be mentioned in our annual.

If these affairs keep up as they are and have been lately, the school wonders whether Wilma McBane will return to school next year, and if Rudy's too nervous to ask her an important question.

We wonder whether Lucille Conn gets inspirations for her splendid poetry from Franz Tomlinson.

We also are in question as to whether Lou French will always brag on Maurice Klug's good points.

Do two musical students harmonize in both melody and love? If they don't, Arline Glivena and Vigo Huffman will be forced to look elsewhere.

Will everybody get invitations to a wedding in which Isabel Merick will be pronounced. Mrs. Bert Horning? We'd better be concentrating on wedding presents.

Even though Mary Stevenson is radical over many things, did you ever notice how she unconsciously smiles when she sees Kenay?

Will this romance of Zora Pemberton and Herschell Ping ever end?

Virginia Smith and Charles Jackley—True love never runs smooth—and, you know, they quarrel constantly.

Will Mildred LaForge make a good impression in a kitchenette? Earl Garlinghouse says he liked her in dainty little house dresses.

Someone told me that Genevieve Rollings and Charles Sullivan are close relatives—they are close, but not relatives.

Does Mary Louise still look forward to the dates with Clarence Laggett? Oh, my Chasen and Helen, too.

HOW TO LIVE 100 YEARS

Don't argue with highwaymen when they poke a gun in your face.

Don't stand in a railroad track just to get your name in the paper.

While swimming, don't make a wager with anybody that you can stay under water ten minutes.

Don't smoke Christmas cigars.

Don't get shaved in a barber shop, else the barber will talk you to death.

Don't eat a new bride's cooking, until you have tried it out on the dog.

ANVIL ECHOES OF YEARS AGO

Oct., 1923—Gerstmeyer fell before Paris, Illinois, by the score of 48 0. It was the first game in Gerstmeyer's football history

Oct., 1923—Not all boys reserve Saturday night, the showers are really in demand now. Miss Foster's work in Hygiene is bring forth good results.

Tech's Carnival

On December 4, Tech produced her annual carnival. Every department took an active part in this festival. The commercial department put on two snappy numbers in the book keeping room, entitled "The Snuggles Family" and the "Dancing Black Crows of 1950", the printers had the Shooting Gallery and the Photo Shop where pictures were shown which had been collected of Gerstneyer during her entire existence. The Music, Physical Education, and Dramatics departments combined their efforts in one big show which was given in the assembly under the name of the "The Dress Rehearsal." The Home Economics department put on a Cake Dance in the cafeteria, a cake being given away at each dance, the Social Studies department erected a midget golf course in the Foods Laboratory, using gas stoves as hazards, the English and French departments occupied the large study hall, dividing the honors with the Fortune Tellers and vaudeville stunts.

The returns of this affair were substantial and are to be used for school equipment which is needed and will serve the greatest purpose.

IF YOU WANT TO BE LOVED

"Don't contradict people, even if you're sure you are right.
Don't be inquisitive about the affairs of even your most intimate friend.
Don't underrate anything because you don't possess it.
Don't believe that everybody else in the world is happier than you.
Don't conclude that you have never had any opportunities in life.
Don't be rude to your inferiors' social position.
Don't repeat gossip, even if it does interest a crowd.

Learn to hide your aches and pains under a pleasant smile. Few care whether you have the earache, headache, or rheumatism.

Learn to attend to your own business—a very important point.

Do not try to be anything else but a gentleman or a gentlewoman, and that means one who has consideration for the whole world and whose life is governed by the Golden Rule, 'Do unto others as you would be done by.'"

"I was in a picture show and it was so crowded and dark that a girl seated herself right on my lap," remarked Ray to Freeman.

"What did you do then?"

"Sat through two shows."

"What kind of tooth paste do you use?"

"I don't need no tooth paste; my teeth ain't loose."

I Am Art

Chester C. LaFollette

Through me the eyes of unseeing Man are opened to the wonders about him.

I cradled in the arms of Nature, much have I learned of her. My inspiration comes from her deep breast and she ever replenishes me. It was she who made Truth known to me, and I am nothing without Truth.

I am the twin sister of Beauty, and wheresoever I go, there also she will be found, for we are inseparable.

I walk hand in hand with Knowledge and Science who are my steadfast friends.

I am Art. How gladly do I go into the homes of Man where the door is left ajar.

I take the city dweller to the quiet country lanes at twilight to the sweet breath of cattle knee-deep in some shady pool, to the fragrance of wild-flowers along a lonely road, to the sombre silence of dark and gloomy forests bathed in incense of pine.

I take to the country boy the restlessness of the city—all its turmoil, its streets teeming with busy life—its moving lights—the dazzling lights of the great metropolis—and perchance the light of opportunity for him. I show him the treasures of great museums—my treasures of the old masters in the great art galleries. Through me he learns to dream of great things.

I take to the mountain dweller the surge and roar of breakers on the crescent sea-beach when the moon is new and thin. I take to him beside the thundering crash and heave of mighty rollers against rocks. Yes, I take ships, the symbol of travel, to him who is shut up in his mountain loneliness.

I take to the fisherman's hut beside the sea, a glimpse of purple mountains, crowned with glistening snow—the gloom of the shadows in the deep canyon, the warmth and color of brilliant sunlight far, far above, playing on the turrets and pinnacles of the mountain temples erected by God.

To the troubled and worried I carry the message of encouragement from the babbling brook as it tumbles over the mill wheel into the mirror surface of a placid mountain lake. To them I whisper the peace and quietude of the shepherd tending his grazing flocks.

Sometimes I am called upon to preserve for the coming age great souls of the past in cold, relentless marble. In this I guide the patient hand of the sculptor, gage the numberless taps of the mallet and temper of the chisel. Then again, I take into the childless home the shining faces of little children to brighten many lonely hours. I am dependent upon the mastery of Man, and yet, I am Man's Master.

"I am of him and he is of me!"

Through me shall the eyes of man be opened to the Beauty which is ever present, he knows it not, because he sees it not, until I translate it for him.

As fine Art, I stand for all that is Good and Beautiful and True. I Am Art!

Twilight

Ward Worley

Softly while the daylight dies
And the sunset closes,
Homeward swift the red-wing flies,
Furrowing the crimson skies;
And the low horizon lies
Overlaid with roses.

Widely o'er the woodlands all,
Clover fields and meadows,
Misty curtains slowly fall
Over vale and mountain wall,
While the night-hawks whir and call
Through the growing shadows.

Softly falls the eventide—
Twilight gray descending,
Dusky pinions reaching wide,
Brood above the country side,
Folding with night to bide,
Gracious slumber lending.

Gently falls our gloaming time,
Without sound or warning:
Fading earth lights mount and climb
Unto starry heights sublime,
And beyond life's vesper-chime
Glow the gates of morning.

In Memoriam

CURTIS G. SHORTRIDGE

Mathematics

In recognition of the faithful and untiring services of Curtis G. Shortridge, the principal and members of the faculty, in their meeting at the Gerstmeier Technical High School, January 19, 1931, wish to express their sense of personal loss in the death of Mr. Shortridge, and their appreciation of his services as a member of the faculty.

His age and wide experience in educational work made him a valuable member of our faculty. He was a loyal supporter of our school and at all times taught school spirit and good citizenship, both by word and by precept. His sterling character, his faithfulness to his work and his love and sympathy for those about him have won for him the love and respect of the faculty and student body.

ELMER W. FERREE

Forge

With profound sorrow the Faculty of the Gerstmeier Technical High School records the death of one of its most earnest and zealous members—Elmer W. Ferree.

Being an instructor in the Boys' Vocational School, he had the opportunity of seeing and helping it to grow into the Gerstmeier Technical High School, and as a faithful champion he has loved and served it.

In his work he was always serious, and acted only after the most careful planning. He was always desirous of building into the characters of his students the sterling attributes of truthfulness, honesty and thrift. Those most closely associated with him at his moments of greatest pleasure came from reports that some former student was making good.

We shall remember him as being a genius in his line of work, a competent instructor, always punctual, always pleasant, seriously considerate in forming of opinions, but standing uncompromisingly by his convictions in every deal, open, honest, and absolutely square.

ERNESTINE GERSTMEYER

Band Benefactress

To the memory of Mrs. Ernestine Gerstmeier who has passed beyond.

The members of the faculty and student body mourn the loss of this dear little lady because of her continual kindness, loyalty and benevolence to our school band. It was the source of her sole interest, ambition, and pride to make it a superior factor of the community.

We shall miss her.
